

Biological Engineering Business Forum

Featuring:

Genentech
IN BUSINESS FOR LIFE

Tuesday November 29th 11:00 -2:00 pm
Talk given at 12:00 pm in Room 32-124 (Stata Center)
by Genentech Representative
(MIT Alumna) Amy LaVerdiere

Light lunch and refreshments will be provided due to limited space, RSVP required
(please reply to tostado@mit.edu)

Genentech, considered one of the founders of the industry, is one of the world's premiere biotechnology companies. One of the largest biotech companies in the world, with an estimated market value of over $100 billion dollars, Genentech covers all aspects of the bioengineering process from research and development to manufacturing, distribution, and commercialization. Genentech is currently looking for potential internship and job position candidates!

Sponsored by MIT SEBC and The MIT Society for Biological Engineering (SBE)

Massachusetts Institute of Technology MIT

Massachusetts Institute of Technology Student Chapter

