

Join us and our MIT alums at our fall recruiting events!

Mon 9/18, 11am - 2pm:

Roivant BBQ on Kresge

Mon 9/18, 7pm - 8:30pm:

Information session (4-237)

Fri 9/29, 10am - 4pm:

MIT Career Fair

Mon 10/2, 11:59pm:

Application deadline

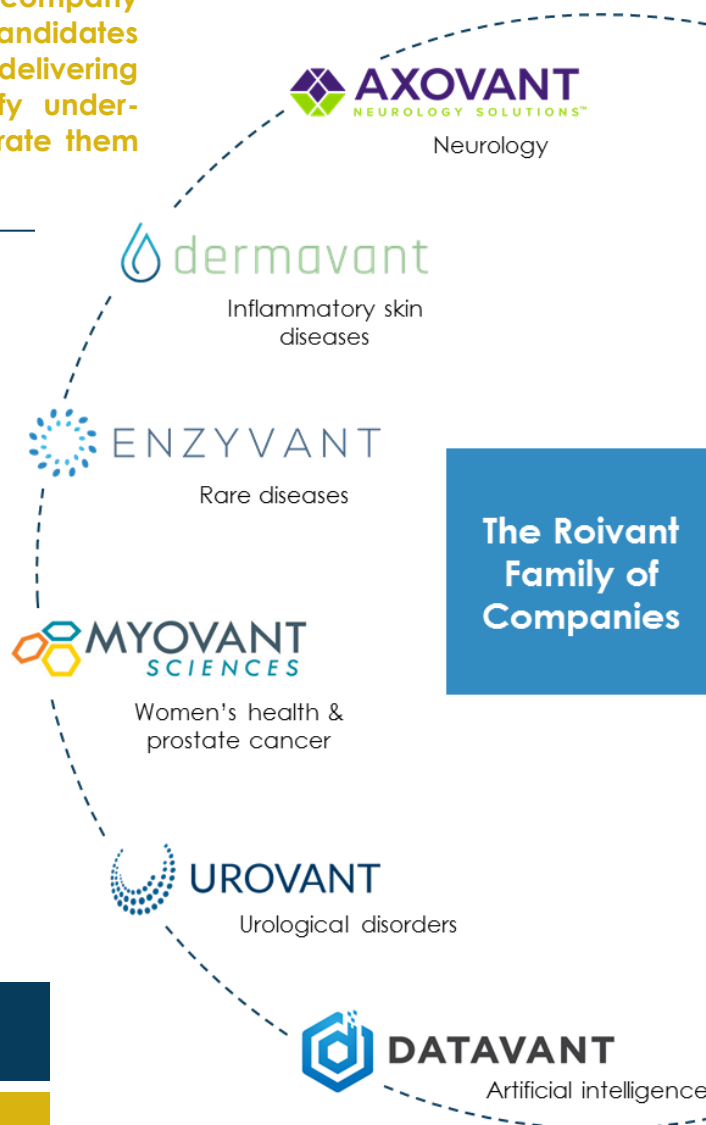

Fri 10/6:

On-campus interviews

Roivant Sciences is a transformative biopharmaceutical company dedicated to realizing the full value of promising drug candidates by systematically reducing the time, cost, and risk of delivering new drugs to patients. At Roivant, we aim to identify under-resourced or deprioritized drug candidates and accelerate them through development and approval.

By way of our innovative business model, we are rapidly expanding our pipeline and family of companies. In just three years, we have launched several wholly- and majority-owned subsidiaries, including Axovant Sciences (neurology) and Myovant Sciences (women's health and prostate cancer) in two record-setting IPOs, and Enzyvant Sciences (rare diseases), whose rare pediatric drug candidate is the first to ever be granted both Breakthrough Therapy designation and Regenerative Medicine Advanced Therapy designation by FDA.

In aggregate, we have raised $2.6 billion in support of our growing family of companies. Our most recent round has enabled us to expand into healthcare adjacencies beyond biopharmaceutical development. Datavant, our first technology-focused subsidiary, aims to dissolve barriers between siloed healthcare datasets in order to unlock novel actionable insights.

ROTATIONAL ANALYST PROGRAM

- Four 6-month rotations in departments/subsidiaries across the Roivant family of companies
- Opportunity to work alongside industry leaders to build the healthcare company of the future
- Exposure to all parts of our growing company, across business development, new company formation, clinical development, commercial, business operations, technology, etc.
- Program based in New York City, with opportunities to work in seven offices around the globe

THE MIT RECRUITING TEAM

Danielle Greenberg

Danielle.Greenberg@roivant.com
(917) 534-7948

Tyler Finkelstein '17 Greg Lubin '17
Joyce Hong '16 Austin Gromatzky '15