

Princeton University

QUANTITATIVE & COMPUTATIONAL BIOLOGY

2020 Virtual Open House

September 2nd, 1-3PM ET

Register

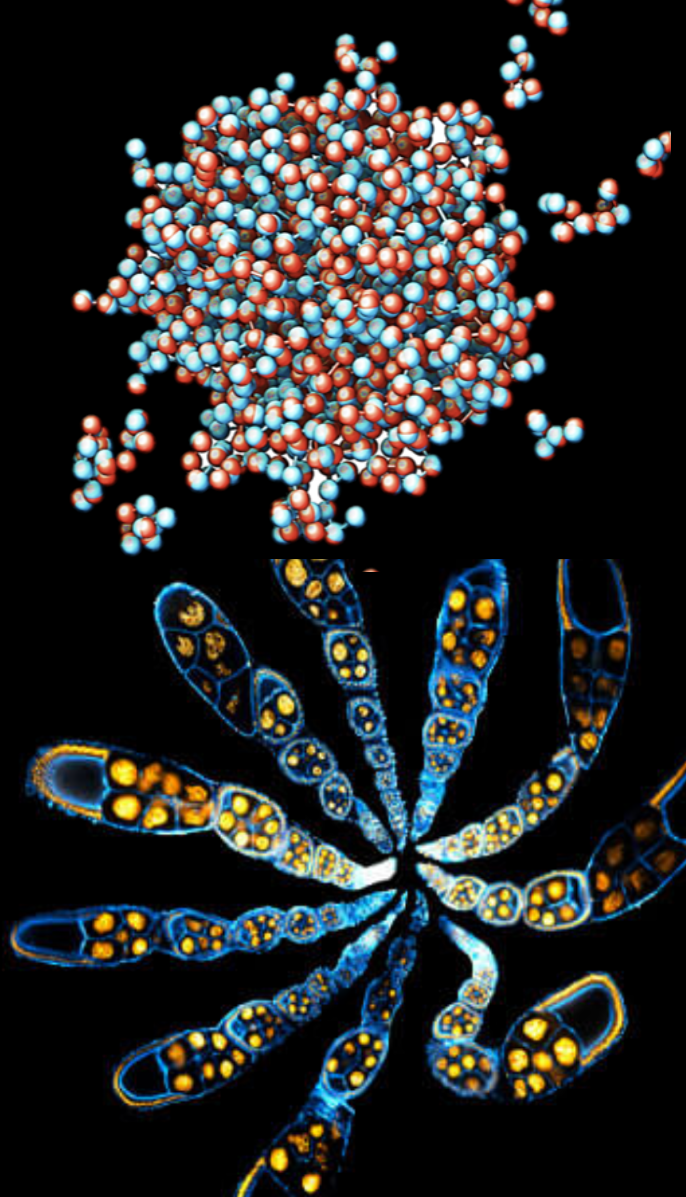

<https://tinyurl.com/qcb-open-house>

Program Highlights

- Introduction by Institute director, Mike Levine
- Interactive faculty panel with
 - Ned Wingreen
 - Coleen Murphy
 - Sarah Kocher
- Admissions process tips and tricks
- Graduate school life panel hosted by students
- Networking opportunities with Princeton faculty and students

Questions?

contact jgiraldi@princeton.edu

What is QCB?

QCB is an interdisciplinary Ph.D. program at the Lewis-Sigler Institute that welcomes students from backgrounds ranging from biology, physics, computer science, engineering, and mathematics.

We strongly encourage prospective Ph.D. applicants from historically underrepresented groups in STEM to attend and learn about QCB at Princeton

