

SESSION 1:

INVESTIGATING STRUCTURAL RACISM AND GENTRIFICATION USING COMPUTATIONAL TECH W/ SEBASTIAN SANDOVAL OLASCOAGA

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 9TH 12-1PM ET:

Join us for the kickoff session of The "Stretch Your Impact" Summer Series!

Join this interactive conversation to discuss the importance of public interest tech, led by Sebastian Sandoval Olascoaga, Ph.D. student, MIT Department of Urban Studies and Planning.

Sebastian will illustrate how he is leveraging computational tech to investigate structural racism and gentrification in Boston in partnership with neighborhood activist-researchers and the Conservation Law Foundation.
