

MIT BIOTECH GROUP

Our mission

The MIT Biotechnology Group aims to increase the pace of biotechnology innovation by building strong, symbiotic relationships between the MIT community and leaders in academia, industry, and finance. We endeavor to facilitate development of the knowledge, networks, and experiences to prepare members for careers in biotechnology.

1800+

Members

Attend MBG events

80+

Leadership

Organize events and group strategy

3

Initiatives

Tailor involvement by student interests and background

	Join our mailing list	Join an initiative	Lead an initiative
Access to exclusive events with industry & external partners. Associates are prioritized for: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - VC dinners - Fireside chats - Workshops + site visits 		✓	✓
Attend exclusive general meetings with fun biotech content (e.g. trivia, shark tank!)		✓	✓
Event planning experience		✓	✓
Networking opps with industry leaders		✓	✓
Set strategic direction for a student organization			✓

Industry Initiative

Connect students to industry biomedical science to prepare for a career in pharmaceuticals & biotech.

Entrepreneurship Initiative

Explore biotech company formation including scientific founding, venture creation & investing

Undergraduate Initiative

Expose MIT undergrads to the biotech industry & cutting-edge research through hands-on learning opportunities.

Get involved by attending our events!

Upcoming events:

Nest pitch competition, Women in Biotech Leadership seminar series, Drug development seminar series, Life Sciences UROP Mixer, VC dinners, and more!

Contact biotech@mit.edu if you have questions.

Join our mailing list by visiting our website:

biotech.mit.edu

