

Northeastern University

College of Arts, Media and Design

The Creative Industries Speaker Series

Featuring

Ed Fries

An ex-Vice President of Microsoft who co-created the Xbox console, founder of FigurePrints and creator of "Halo 2600", a "demake" of the Halo series for the Atari 2600.

Where: Raytheon Amphitheater (240 Egan)

When: Tuesday, January 18th @ 1:30PM

Come join the Northeastern Creative Industries Program in welcoming one of of gaming's heavyweight veterans as he shares both his experiences and insights on creativity and innovation in the industry.

For more information visit www.ci.neu.edu OR our Creative Industries at Northeastern  page