

Game Design Internship

for Summer 2012

Location, Woburn, MA.

Overview

8D World is a small game developer, located in Woburn, MA. We are currently developing our first mobile game for iPhone and iPad. We believe this is a perfect opportunity to teach aspiring young people the craft of game development while contributing to design of a commercial game.

Internship Job Description

This is full-time unpaid internship from May – Aug. 2012. No prior game design experience is necessary. Interns will work along-side our design team helping to play balance and play test every facet and feature of the game.

Internship Benefits

- Game Design is a fun work. For many people, making games is even more satisfying than playing them.
- This is an opportunity to learn from Rick Goodman and his experienced team of developers.
- If you design mission(s) which meet our high standards for quality and fun, they will become part of the final product.
- You will receive in-game credit for your contribution.
- This is a real job. It goes on your resume. You may use 8D World as reference for future employment.

Requirements

You are excited about this opportunity. You are reliable and willing to learn. You are an avid gamer. You play games of all types including casual and multiplayer games. You can work in our Woburn, MA office.

What's the Next Step?

Send us an email and tell us about yourself. We will setup an interview with you in Woburn.

Rick Goodman
Rick.goodman@8dworld.com