

The Program in Science, Technology, and Society (STS) and the Department of Humanities at the New Jersey Institute of Technology (NJIT) invite applications for a full-time lecturer position (four courses per semester). Applicants should be able to contribute to the core STS curriculum as well as to one or more emergent programmatic specializations centered on human cognition, sustainability studies, race and gender, and music and culture. The successful candidate will need to demonstrate commitment to interdisciplinary pedagogy and broad understanding of the human dimensions of science and technology. Applicants are requested to provide a cover letter, curriculum vita, and the names and contact details for three references. Specific instructions regarding the submission of these materials is available at <http://www.njit.edu/humanresources>. Questions regarding this position can be directed to Professor Maurie Cohen at mcohen@adm.njit.edu. Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled. NJIT is an equal opportunity employer.
