STARTING DATE: AUGUST 2018

QUALIFICATIONS: The Management Department in the College of Business Administration at Kansas State University (<http://cba.ksu.edu>) is seeking to hire an assistant professor for a tenure-track appointment in Operations and Supply Chain Management (OSCM). Required: (1) A Ph.D. or equivalent degree in an OSCM-related field from an AACSB accredited Business School (or must be within six months of degree completion at the start of contract); (2) demonstrated preparation for conducting high quality research and publishing in high quality journals in the OSCM discipline; (3) demonstrated preparation for high quality teaching in supply chain management, operations management, and transportation/logistics; and (4) ability to contribute to the service mission of the college. Preferred: Preference will be given to candidates with (1) strong research records as demonstrated through publications in top academic journals and presentations at national academic conferences; (2) prior university teaching experience in supply chain management, operations management, and/or business/data analytics; (3) strong interpersonal and communication skills; (4) related professional work experience, and (5) demonstrated interest in working with multicultural students and diverse populations. Responsibilities include conducting and publishing academic research and teaching two courses per semester, along with assisting in the service mission of the Department, College and University.

THE UNIVERSITY AND COLLEGE OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION: Kansas State University is a state-supported institution of more than 22,000 students. The University is recognized for the quality of its academic programs and for consistently producing winners of top national scholarships. K-State is classified as a Research 1 University (highest research activity) by the Carnegie Classification of Institutions of Higher Education. K-State is a member of the Big XII Athletic Conference and offers students excellent opportunities in many areas. The 668-acre main campus is located in Manhattan, Kansas (population approximately 55,000), a community nestled in the beautiful Flint Hills of Northeast Kansas. The College of Business Administration is one of the colleges on the main campus. The College, with over 2,800 undergraduate and graduate students, is comprised of four academic departments: Accounting, Finance, Management, and Marketing. The College is accredited by AACSB International at the bachelors and masters level in business administration and accounting. The College is housed in a new 160,000-square-foot, $60 million building completed in 2016. Details about this new state-of-the-art building can be found at: <http://cba.ksu.edu/about/new-building>.

DEPARTMENT OF MANAGEMENT: The Management Department is the largest department in the college and grants about 300 degrees each year. The Department offers degree tracks in entrepreneurship, human resource management, management information systems, operations and supply chain management, and organizational management.

SALARY: Salary is commensurate with experience and qualifications.

EMPLOYMENT POLICY: Kansas State University is committed to nondiscrimination on the basis of race, color, ethnic or national origin, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, religion, age, ancestry, disability, military status, veteran status, or other non-merit reasons, in admissions, educational programs or activities and employment, including employment of disabled veterans and veterans of the Vietnam Era, as required by applicable laws and regulations. The university and the college are dedicated to enhancing the diversity of our student body and staff, and providing an inclusive work environment. Background check required.

APPLICATION:

Application screening will begin November 1, 2017 and continue until the position is filled. Interested candidates should submit cover letter, CV, examples of publications, summarized teaching evaluations, three reference letters, and other evidence of qualifications.
