

Michael F. Price Chair of Supply Chain Management University of Oklahoma

The Division of Marketing and Supply Chain Management at the University of Oklahoma announces a senior faculty endowed position. The opening is for a highly accomplished Associate Professor/Full Professor of Supply Chain Management to fill the prestigious Michael F. Price Chair in Supply Chain Management.

The candidate must be strong in all three facets of an academic position associated with a comprehensive research university. Strong research credentials are desired, especially with a research emphasis in Transportation and Logistics, Procurement, Healthcare Supply Chain, Big Data Analysis, Planning and Strategy, Production Operations Management or related Business-to-Business issues.

The candidate must already have earned reputations as nationally recognized scholars who continue to contribute as research scholars and leaders. The holder of the Price Chair must also be an accomplished teacher capable of delivering undergraduate, masters-level, doctoral, and executive courses. Interaction with business executives and managers is expected. They must have strong leadership, organization and communication skills, be willing to serve the college and university in important service roles, and be active contributors to their academic academy.

The candidate, if hired at OU, will be expected to focus on the leading journals of Supply Chain, Marketing, and/or Healthcare management, such as Operations Research, Production and Operations Management, Management Science, Decision Sciences, Journal of Operations Management, Journal of Supply Chain Management, Decision Sciences, etc.

The Price Chairs must be able to provide advice and leadership to the Division Director of Marketing and Supply Chain Management and its Advisory Board. Moreover, the chair should provide mentoring to junior faculty as they become available.
