

14th Annual GAIN Meeting in Boston

More than 60 German universities, research institutions and funding agencies will present their programs and job offers at the 14th Annual GAIN Meeting in Boston, the largest German science and research career fair in the U.S.

The opening day of the three day conference is open to international doctoral and postdoctoral students, as well as assistant professors seeking information on transatlantic careers and collaborations. This is a unique opportunity to talk to the leading experts of Europe's largest economy and one of the leading powerhouses of international research and innovation.

Career Fair:

Friday, September 5, 2014 8:30am - 11:30am

Participants are invited to attend the career fair with over 60 exhibitors from all areas of the German research landscape. Our experts are looking forward to meeting you at their booths.

Workshop:

Friday, September 5, 2014 9am - 10:00am

This workshop is targeted to doctoral and postdoctoral students, as well as assistant professors. It provides information on postdoctoral careers in Germany, how to set up a research team as junior faculty, as well as opportunities in non-university institutions and industry. All disciplines are welcome. The session will cover funding schemes for international researchers from any country besides Germany. German scientists are encouraged to attend another concurrent session.

Speakers:

Dr. Max Vögler, Director, North America Office Washington D.C., German Research Foundation (DFG)

Prof. Dr. Cornelia Denz, Professor of Applied Physics, Prorektorin für Internationales und wissenschaftlichen Nachwuchs, Westfälische Wilhelms-Universität Münster

Further speakers will be announced shortly.

Presentations will be conducted in English.

Registration:

The event is free of charge. However, prior registration is required.
