

MIT Postdocs:

This news is meant for YOU! We are excited to announce that the Translational Fellows Program (TFP) opportunity will soon be accepting applications from MIT postdocs as it enters its third year!

Would you like to:

- Turn a research discovery into a commercial venture?
- Have a-day-a-week, funded by MIT, devoted to building commercial value for your idea?
- Expand your professional and entrepreneurial skills?
- Connect with the rich MIT entrepreneurial ecosystem?

The Translational Fellows Program is an extraordinary opportunity to realize the commercial potential of your research discoveries, expand your professional skills, and develop meaningful business and personal networks. The program provides a-day-a-week of funding, mentoring resources, skill building experiences, and a variety of other resources to help you focus on creating a technology-based new venture.

INTERESTED? Please click here to indicate your interest and to sign up to receive further details. It will take just 1 minute to answer a few simple questions.

TO BE ADMITTED YOU WILL NEED TO BE NOMINATED BY YOUR RESEARCH ADVISOR WHO WILL ALSO WITH YOU IDENTIFY AN APPROPRIATE PROJECT FROM THE LAB. THUS, YOU SHOULD DISCUSS THIS OPPORTUNITY WITH YOUR PI ASAP.

Applications are due September 30th and the program begins in mid-October. Information sessions will be scheduled in September. More details about the Translational Fellows Program can be found at: www.rle.mit.edu/translational/

With Regards,

Yoel Fink

Director,
Research Laboratory of Electronics

Fiona Murray

Co-Director,
MIT Innovation Initiative

Vladimir Bulović

Co-Director,
MIT Innovation Initiative

Michal Gilon-Yanai

Manager, Translational Fellows Program

Roman Lubynsky

MIT Venture Mentoring Service