

Join us for a seminar with
Dr. Jessica Goodman
-former Postdoctoral Fellow at the Whitehead Institute-now Director of Corporate Alliances at Harvard University

Friday, May 18 at 3:00 – 4:30 pm seminar room 4-149
Snacks and Refreshments will be served!

POWER's professional career development seminars focus on the speaker's personal experiences, insights into their current work, as well as work-life integration issues. Dr. Goodman will discuss what has contributed to her success, the challenges she has overcome, and advice for current postdocs. We hope that the interactions will assist postdocs in navigating their careers and will also help them build professional connections.

Speaker bio:

Jessica leads the Corporate Alliances team at Harvard's Office of Technology Development (OTD). Harvard's Corporate Alliances team is dedicated to maximizing the value of research alliances by facilitating productive relationships between the faculty at Harvard and partners in Industry.

Prior to joining Harvard in 2016, Jessica was a Scientist in the Neurology Department at Biogen where she developed cell-based assays to understand disease mechanisms in Amyotrophic Lateral Sclerosis (ALS). Jessica also worked as a Senior Program Officer at Prize4Life, a non-profit dedicated to accelerating the discovery of a cure for ALS. Jessica was a NIH NRSA postdoctoral fellow at the Whitehead Institute where she used yeast to study neurodegenerative diseases. Jessica received her B.S. in Biochemistry from Nazareth College of Rochester and her Ph.D. in Molecular Biophysics and Biochemistry from Yale University.
