

The Program in Writing and Humanistic Studies invites you to

Thesis Presentations

by the Fourth Class of the Graduate Program in Science Writing
Friday, May 19, 2006
MIT Faculty Club, E52-6th floor

Morning session:

9:00 – 9:30 Welcome, coffee and pastries

9:30 – 11:45 Presentations by

Selby Cull

*“From Gondwanaland, With Love:
The Geologic Adventures of the City of Boston”*

Susan Nasr

“The Buffalo Wars”

Michelle Sipics

“Abandoned Minds: The Escalating Crisis of Geriatric Mental Illness”

Emilie Slaby

“Ebola is Coming to a Neighborhood Near You”

Afternoon session:

2:00 - 4:00 Presentations by

Philip McKenna

“Winging It: A Bold Step Toward the Whooping Crane’s Return”

Emily Anthes

“The Chosen Genes: Jews, Genetics, and the Future of Ethnic Medicine”

Stephen Ornes

“‘If It Quacks Like a Sphere’ — The Million Dollar Problem”

You are welcome to attend any or all of the presentations.
Refreshments will be served.

