

Anne Fausto-Sterling

Race, Gender, Science--Still Questions After All These Years

Thursday, February 15 • 6 PM - 7:30 PM
Sherman Fairchild Lecture Hall 102 • Reception to follow
7 Divinity Avenue, Cambridge

Anne Fausto-Sterling will present the first spring talk in the Women, Science and Society Seminar Series. Dr. Fausto-Sterling has explored the role of women in the sciences in two recent publications, Sexing the Body and Myths of Gender. Dr. Fausto-Sterling has served on the faculty of Brown University for the last 30 years and has also served as a visiting professor at a number of universities in the United States and abroad in Biology, Medical Science and Gender Studies departments. Dr. Evelyn Hammonds, Harvard's Senior Vice Provost for Faculty Development and Diversity, will introduce Dr. Fausto-Sterling.

Sponsored by the Office of the Senior Vice Provost for Faculty Development and Diversity, Graduate School of Arts and Sciences, Harvard Graduate Women in Science and Engineering, and the Committee on Degrees in Studies of Women, Gender, and Sexuality.
