

A portrait of Manuel Castells, a man with white hair and glasses, wearing a suit and tie, looking directly at the camera. The background is a blurred cityscape at night with lights.

The Space of Autonomy:

Cyberspace and Urban Space in Networked Social Movements

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 18th, 2014
6:30 pm - 8:00 pm

Piper Auditorium
Gund Hall
Harvard University GSD

Manuel Castells is a globally acclaimed scholar, author of over 26 books, and world-renowned theorist of the relationships between social movements, technology, and cities. On the 30th anniversary of his award-winning book The City and The Grassroots, Castells will be giving a public lecture on his most recent book (Networks of Outrage and Hope: Social Movements in the Internet Age published by Polity Press, 2012), which examines social movements around the world, from the Arab Spring to the Occupy Movement as well as

Harvard University
Graduate School of Design

Sponsored by the Department of Urban Planning and Design's Interdisciplinary Urbanism Seminar