“From Galileo to Laudato Si’: Why Science Needs Faith”: Lecture by Br Guy Consolmagno, SJ, B.S. & M.S. MIT, PhD University of Arizona on April 3, 2023 at 7:30pm / Location: 32-155. (Stata Center). Logic and reason must always start with assumptions, and the assumptions behind science are, at their root, religious assumptions. Our core beliefs not only determine how we expect the universe to work; just as importantly they supply the motivation for the science we do, and indeed they determine why we as individuals choose to be scientists. We'll examine this theme from history to the present day.
