“What is prayer?”

How do you pray? Whether you pray only before midterms or multiple times a day, there is always more to learn and grow in what St. Theresa of Avila calls, "[the] intimate sharing between friends."

Please join us for MIT Catholic's 2025 Fall Retreat, October 10 – 12, where you can:

- Learn about ways to pray from Deacon Matthew
- Take a needed break from MIT's demanding schedule
- Spend time in fellowship with new and old friends
- Hear testimonies from fellow students on the power of prayer

All MIT, Harvard, and Wellesley students / affiliates students are welcome! I am excited about the program we have prepared for you, and I sincerely hope you will join us this fall in asking, “Lord, teach us to pray...” Luke Chapter 11, Verse 1."

Celiac Disease/Gluten Intolerance: The Benedictine Sisters of Perpetual Adoration in Clyde, Missouri, have made Vatican-approved, low-gluten altar breads since 2004. These breads have been tested by independent laboratories and deemed safe for use by many people with Celiac Sprue Disease.

In 2004 Dr. Alessio Fasano, at the time director of the Center for Celiac Research at the University of Maryland, maintained that the amount of gluten contained in one of the Benedictine Sisters' low-gluten altar breads (tested at < .01 percent) was so minute that someone diagnosed with Celiac Sprue Disease would have to consume 270 wafers daily in order to reach the danger point. A test done in 2016 indicated the gluten content was even more minimal - less than .001 percent. Dr. Fasano is now with the Center for Celiac Research and Treatment at Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston. The decision to receive a low-gluten host should be made on advice from your physician.

At Mass the priest will have the special container with the low-gluten hosts. At the time for Holy Communion simply process in the line being served by the priest, and when in front of the priest let him know you need a low-gluten host.
